BELLE GLADE — PAHOKEE, FL.

But only if they ask for one

Pahokee department heads get raises

If you don't tell 'em, they won't know what you want was the philosophy of Donnie Martin, Pahokee city supervisor, at Tuesday night's council meeting.

So Martin told 'em and he got what he wanted, a seven percent pay hike.

The raise is retroactive to October 1 when the council authorized all city department heads to evaluate their personnel and give out pay hikes. Martin and the other department heads did so, but their own pay hikes stalled when the council put off granting across-the-board raises.

"I don't care what the others (department heads) do," Martin told the board bluntly, "but they've got mouths if they want to speak. I'm worried about myself."

In response, councilman Curtis Minors made a motion to grant the pay hike to Martin but he refused to give an across-the-board increase. "If they want a raise," he said, "let them come here and ask for it like Donnie did."

One other department head did just that. Parks supervisor Betty Mills was next on the agenda and she too asked for and received a seven percent increase retroactive to October 1. Utilities supervisor Bill Cross didn't get a raise as he was sick and unable to attend the meeting.

"It won't matter much," said councilman George Rashley in commenting on Cross' illness. "I he asks for the raise and we give it, it'll be retroactive anyway."

In other city business, James Elrod complained to the council that he had been "publically embarrassed" by building inspector Phelix Slonaker. Elrod said Slonaker told him in public he was not to dump paint cans in a no dumping zone or the city would take action against him.

Elrod further told the council he wondered how Slonaker figured the cans were his and threatened legal action if "it happens again." Slonaker sat quietly though Elrod's statement but later in the meeting, answered it. He said he had asked Elrod several times not to dump empty paint cans in the vacant lot in question and after putting up "no dumping" signs found that cans had been turned upside down over the signs.

Slonaker asked the council if a notice could be placed in local newspapers advising citizens to put any trash that is small enough into the dumpsters and it would be hauled away.

Rashley and Minor both said they would agree to that but noted they felt Slonaker should approach citizens in a different manner.

Janette Johnson, representing the Pahokee Woman Club, requested that the museum committee of the club be allowed to incorporate along the lines of the Prince Theatre Committee. She said this would allow the committee to accept donations and sell memberships in the museum.

The Woman's Club undertook the museum as a special project and the city has budgeted $2,000 for it. She wished that the money be given to the committee but hinted that she hoped this would not be necessary in later years.

The council unanimously approved her request.

City attorney Mike Stauder said he had received a letter from the Florida Rural Legal Services, Inc., stating that the organization intended to sue the city for cutting off water to local residents who have not paid their water bills.

Stauder said he contacted the Service's attorney who told him the city should provide a system of hearings for residents who feel their water should not be cut off.

He said he felt that a city ordinance could be passed allowing for a hearing for those who request one and the Service's attorney has agreed to hold off on the suit while the ordinance is in the process of being adopted.

City clerk Betty McCoy said an ordinance of this nature could pose problems. She said almost two thirds of the local residents are delinquent in the payment of their water bills each month and that "you wouldn't believe" the number who are cut off.

Stauder agreed to read a copy of a recent Supreme Court decision affecting utility companies and cutoff policies and report back to the council at the next meeting.

Mayor Padgett noted a number of complaints concerning dogs turning over garbage cans. He said he had contacted the County Health Department and was told that unless the city had a leash law, the Department of Animal Control would not pick up stray dogs.

Martin received permission to bid for a number of garbage containers and spare parts and also, received permission to re-work sidewalks in the 100 block of Cypress and the 200 block of Annona.

Padgett said he would like to have a unified approach as to what the city is requesting from the Corps of Engineers and the South Florida Water Management District concerning the Pahokee State Park and marina.

High water in Lake Okeechobee has resulted in problems for both the park and the marina and Padgett and a group of citizens have requested aid from the state.

He said work will be done on the boat ramp docks so they won't "wash away any more" and noted that what he would like is solid proposals as to what the council and city wish the Corps and WMD to do.

The council told him to continue his work and to use his own judgement as to what can be done.

HOLIDAY EDITION

In order that employees of your newspaper may enjoy the Thanksgiving Holiday with members of their families, all deadlines will be advanced one day next week. The Geni-classified ad deadline will be 5 p.m. Friday.

Individuals and organizations having news items for the holiday issue are urged to turn in the items as early as possible. Advertisers are also being reminded that copy for insertion in the Thanksgiving week issue will be picked up one day early.

The Leader and Shield will be distributed on Monday evening and the Herald-Observer on Wednesday.

Planned Parenthood opens new offices

BELLE GLADE—The Glades area Planned Parenthood staff welcomed visitors to the Open House, held Nov. 6 at the new Medical Center, at 141 N. W. Second St. Ms. Judy Oakley, Glades center director, said it has been quite an accomplishment for Planned Parenthood to open the medical clinic after being established in the Glades for approximately a year. "It was through all the donations and contributions from persons and businesses in the community that we've been able to open this medical center," Oakley said.

The center offers a full range of birth control and family planning medical services.

In addition to the complete physical exams offered, the center continues to offer pregnancy testing along with contraceptive counseling and referrals.

The medical clinic is held every Wednesday afternoon, by appointments and with the assistance of four local physicians who volunteer their services. Assisting at the clinic are Dr. Luis Guerrero, Dr. James Motta, Dr. Miguel Bonachea

Port sugar facility explained to Belle Glade Rotary Club

The sugar terminal facilities of the Port of Palm Beach were explained to the Belle Glade Rotary Club Tuesday by Enrique Arias of the Florida Sugar Marketing and Terminal Association.

Arias said the association is composed of all but two major sugar companies in the Glades and its purpose is to provide one market through which sugar can be sold and shipped.

He noted the idea was originated by George Wedgworth and after the concept was approved, facilities for shipping from Fort Pierce, Stuart and Palm Beach were eyed until the Port of Palm Beach was finally selected.

Rail transportation has become very costly, said Arias, for Glades sugar. Most of the raw sugar refined here is either sold to Florida refineries, to Georgia or to Louisiana. One market that the cost of rail transportation deleted was the northeast where most sugar is received from ships and barges.

The new terminal opened that market, lowering the cost of shipping and allowing local companies to compete.

The terminal consists of a sugar warehouse, conveyor system, loading gantry, truck off-loading facility and office. Trucks enter the terminal and are weighed, then dump their sugar into a hopper from which it is stored in the warehouse. After they are unloaded, they are weighed again and dispatched back to the mills.

The terminal is capable of handling 1,000 tons of sugar a day from the trucks, or approximately 40 truckloads.

From storage, the sugar is conveyed through a system that allows it to be loaded aboard a barge. The barge can handle up to 22,000 tons of sugar and can be loaded within 24 hours.

Seagoing tugs tow the barge from Palm Beach to ports along the eastern seaboard.

Turkey shoot set for December 7, 8

The annual Belle Glade Rotary Club turkey shoot, one of the yearly highlights of the club's activities, will be held this year on December 7 and 8.

The shoot will be held as usual off Airport Road behind the old Mixson Florist building.

Tickets for the shoot are now on sale from any Rotarian. Each shoot will consist of 12 shooters. On Friday, Dec. 8, the Club will give away a .22 Magnum rifle and the winner must be present in order to receive the prize.

MEMBERS of the Pahokee Woman's Club sponsored a county-wide meeting of clubs last week and attendance was said to be excellent. Among the clubs represented were Belle Glade, the Gold Coast, Delray Beach, Boynton Beach, Jupiter-Tequesta, Royale, West Palm Beach, and others.

Among those attending were Liska Humphries, Betty Wilbert, Pauline Rife, Eleanor Zack, Kathryn Wallis, Mary Strauss, Vincent Welp, Laura Mills, Peggy Allen, Irene Conrad, Mildred Dobbins and Clark Wilkinson.

Once in awhile... A breath of fresh air!

Every once in a great while a breath of fresh air comes along in government.

One such refreshing moment occurred in Moore Haven recently, when city commissioners agreed to ink a contract with the Southwest Regional Planning Council to prepare the city's comprehensive plan.

Roland Eastwood of the planning council said the plan can probably be completed for less than $4,000, including printing costs.

What is refreshing about this bit of news is the cooperation shown between two government agencies in the plan preparation.

Even more refreshing is the low cost of the plan.

County government in Glades County has spent an estimated $21,000 on private consultants over the past year and still does not have a plan to show for its efforts. An additional $12,000 grant has been obtained to complete the plan in-house.

In Hendry County, the plan was recently completed at a cost of $47,640.

These seem staggering sums for a planning document. And they are. But the fault does not necessarily lie with local government.

Ordering preparation of comprehensive land use plans without providing adequate funding was state government in Tallahassee.

All municipalities and county governments in the state of Florida were told to prepare the plan and when to have the plan completed by.

Local officials say they understood that if they had not prepared the plan, state government would have it done for them and send the local government a bill.

A heyday situation was created for private planning consultants, because most small government bodies lacked the staff to prepare such a complicated plan.

And once contracts were awarded to the consultants, one of the first places they usually went for information was to regional planning groups.

Eastwood says the planning council can prepare the plan so cheaply because it does not have to show a profit.

About one month will be needed for writing the plan and another two months to incorporate the comments of a citizens group.

This is a tremendously accelerated schedule compared to schedules consultants have been working on.

And it gets local citizens directly involved in plan preparation.

We congratulate the City of Moore Haven and the Southwest Florida Regional Planning Council for working out this agreement.

We like the cooperation we see and the taxpayers' money which is being saved.

Tidbits of this and that!

"CHIPS" OFFERED MESSAGE!

Probably not too many Clewiston residents spent two hours watching "Chips" Saturday evening on television. The program offered a message that blended in with local law enforcement as per several conversations that we have had with local law enforcement officers in recent weeks.

To give you a little background "Chips" is a program centered around two California Highway Patrol motorcycle officers. This particular program was expanded into a two hour special which carried a dual theme of lady stock car driver excelling over a male admirer and the California Highway Patrol being called in to provide law enforcement for a California community whose police department was on strike.

Obviously, no law enforcement agency is on strike in the area, so there is no similarity...but the remaining script does.

Immediately upon arrival in the California community, there was a concentrated effort by the younger generation to "try" the highway patrol officers. There were a number of encounters including highspeed chases through the community which endangered not only the lives of the young folks and the officers, but the general public.

After a period of time and several encounters, the officers were successful in apprehending a half dozen of the young folks who were children of prominent community leaders. Needless to say, there was an immediate response of irritated parents who attempted to exert political pressure...as they had done in previous incidents with the community police force. The efforts were to no avail as community pressure was fruitless against the state agency.

Later in the program the patrol officers were complimented and appreciation expressed for their efforts by the parents who had taken time to reevaluate the circumstances and the realization that they actually were not helping their children by exerting political pressure to free them.

This is where Clewiston and Hendry County began to parallel. There have been numerous incidents where young folks have been apprehended for an assortment of wrongdoings, only to have the charges dropped, from what appears to be political pressure.

In at least one instance, the parent of a repeated offender was charged and the judicial system saw fit to drop those charges with no explanation on the agency which placed the charges.

The state Youth Services department leaves a great deal to be desired by officers, however in fairness to the Youth Services, they are attempting to operate within guidelines and facilities in which there "is no way".

We operate within a system of peers and unfortunately, the peers are not exactly sure what they want.

You don't have to go far to find someone who will tell you how "inefficient" law enforcement is in Clewiston and Hendry County, yet per capita we are probably spending the highest amount with our approximately $1.5 million dollars budgets for law enforcement of 18,000 people. This does not include wildlife and other state and federal agencies who work here from time to time.

We have peers who are critical of vandalism; we have peers that are critical of speed violations; and peers that are critical, because being critical seems to be the thing to do.

On the flip side, we have law enforcement officers who are criticized if they do their job and criticized if they don't. If you arrest a speeder, you are harass-

Community... Response should be considered!

Community CATV of Clewiston has announced plans to expand its present service to include home box office features and additional sports programming in the near future.

The proposed project also calls for the elimination of some of the stations that are presently being received by Clewiston residents. Clewiston and its cable vision service is unique, in that cable subscribers enjoy programs from both coasts, via the 600 foot tower located just south of Clewiston. It doesn't take but just a minute to get a dozen different views on which stations should or should not be terminated.

Since the cable vision franchise is a public service facility, it is regulated somewhat by the City Commissioners as well as numerous other agencies all the way to Washington. City fathers have indicated a desire to secure public input from the community prior to approving service changes and the idea has merit.

While the general viewing public does not and should not have the final say with regard to the free enterprise system, it would certainly be a feather in Community CATV's hat to conduct some form of evaluation from their consumers. It could be a public type evaluation or it could be a simple mail ballot.

In addition to expanded service, Community CATV is also promising better reception and clearer pictures from an equipment renovation project underway. Both improvements will be greatly received by community viewers.

Another Kennedy... Runs for president!

The polls indicate that if the American people were voting today, they would elect Sen. Edward M. Kennedy president. His official announcement of his candidacy only confirmed what the pollsters have been telling us for months.

But the pollsters have never yet elected anyone to public office. And the voters won't make their final choice until next November.

Since he is the front-runner, the campaign is certain to focus on Kennedy, at least during the early stages. Now that he is an announced candidate, there will be a new and searching scrutiny of his character and his qualifications. That is at it should be.

First, the American people will be considering his character. People tend to vote for the man they think would be the best president, regardless of his policy positions. Policies change as circumstances change. Character endures.

It is for this reason that Chapquidick and the other incidents that raise questions about Kennedy's character will continue to be issues in the campaign until the decisive votes are taken.

Secondly, the policy line followed by Kennedy as a United States senator and the presidential policies that he now advocates will be scrutinized.

In the Senate since 1963, he has consistently scored among the most liberal senators in ratings of his voting record.

Such a liberal record may have been justified for a senator representing the state of Massachusetts, which has come to be the premier liberal state. But it involves big government spending, antagonism to business, massive government regulation—all policies which Kennedy may wish to disavow as he enters the national arena.

He is entitled to take new positions as a presidential candidate. He should be specific when he criticizes the policies of his party's incumbent in the White House. He should make clear in what ways he differs from the policies of President Carter.

The news media have been covering Kennedy closely. Now they will intensify their coverage. That's good, and it's good that Carter has agreed to an unprecedented "open forum" joint appearance with Kennedy in Iowa in January.

The presidential campaign race has started early. Already the leaders are running hard. They are challenging the voters to pay attention.

Kerry Fauce

I generally hold back my inclination toward commenting about world affairs since I'm not an expert in diplomacy or foreign policy.

But the exception comes with the Iranian hostage situation.

Ayatollah Khomeini's government has broken all rules of diplomacy, ethics and conduct of civilized nations. Iran does not seem to care about anyone but its own interests.

It is absurd for Iran's people to believe they should have the right to bully the rest of the world around. Holding Americans hostage while demanding the release of their former shah is proof of Iran's irresponsibility, which has been criticized by world leaders everywhere.

Despite Khomeini's criticisms of the Western world, his country is very much dependent on Western technology. Even the very oil which Iran is dependent upon for income is pumped out of the ground with equipment designed and supplied by American industry.

Thousands of Iranian Students are studying engineering and sciences in U.S. universities. The recent conduct of Iran, however, warrants discontinuance of such support.

When the hostage situation is resolved, and indeed it must be handled carefully, the United States should break all diplomatic ties and strongly discourage economic ties with Iran.

It is time we fought back.

BOILER PLATE BY JIM JONES

It's wonderful to have someone like the Ayatollah, Ruhollah Khomeini on the world stage.

After losing a number of ridiculous leaders in the Central African Empire and in Uganda, it's nice to have another clown in power.

No one expects clowns to be anything other than funny. And that's exactly what the Ayatollah is.

The Ayatollah is funnier than a fish. We'd be rolling on the floor laughing if it wasn't for the people he's already killed and probably will kill on the future. He's doing it in the name of his religion, so I suppose he can justify it.

It seems obvious he doesn't want Americans in Iran. Not even one or two. That's why he is trying to embarrass the United States by taking over our embassy and the Statue of Liberty.

As an American, I suppose I cannot understand how hated the Shah must be to some of the folks back in good old Iran. After all, when one group takes over the national reigns of power, it seldom without a fight.

His humor, the Ayatollah, showed great spiritual wisdom, compassion and understanding when he returned in triumph to Iran from Paris.

His inspired solution was to kill all his enemies. It's effective. I suppose all of this appealed greatly to the Russians and our friends in the Third World (can you think of any?).

Third World countries accuse us of being responsible for all their misery. So it must be hilarious seeing Americans held hostage in the Statue of Liberty.

And the Russians would rather have a looney (Ayatollah) on their southern flank, than a pro-U.S. Shah.

Mr. Ayatollah may get big ideas; and dare the Russians to intervene in his country. The Russians might not be as reluctant to do that as we are.

Thanksgiving... Keep it fatality free!

Law enforcement agencies including the Florida Highway Patrol, the County Sheriff's Department and the City Police are bracing for the heaviest traffic of the year next weekend. Thanksgiving holiday weekend is one of the heaviest traffic holidays of the year and next weekend is expected to be no exception.

Colonel Eldridge Beach, director of the Florida Highway Patrol, has predicted that 32 people will lose their lives on Florida highways during the weekend, four less fatalities than our highways claimed last year. Motorists are urged to put forth an extra effort to prevent deaths during the holiday period which begins at 6 p.m.

on Wednesday, Nov. 21 and ends at midnight, Sunday, Nov. 25.

As plans are being made by motorists headed for visits with friends and relatives on the traditional "turkey and trimmings" day, the plans should include early departure to eliminate tight time schedules; frequent rest stops along the way and ample rest before starting the return trip home.

Motorists are being warned in advanced of the planned ISLE program which will be in effect November 16th through November 30th. ISLE is an Intensified Speed Limit Enforcement program in which all available law enforcement officers are put on the highways for selective speed enforcement of 55 miles per hour.

Glades Day's record now 5-4

With a 13-6 victory over the Moore Haven Terriers under their belt, Glades Day Friday night assured itself of at least a break-even season going into the last game of the year.

The Terriers proved surprisingly tough as the game could have gone either way following the third quarter. Gator fans were noted sitting in the stands biting their nails, but an insurance touchdown late in the game proved too much for the Terriers to overcome.

The victory moved the Gators to 5-4 for the year and this Friday, they face Northwest Christian of Miami, characterized as "tough."

The Gators got on the scoreboard first against Moore Haven when Jason Shelton scampered 29 yards midway through the first quarter. Herick's extra point was good and Glades Day stayed ahead 7-0 through the second and into most of the third quarters.

Just before the fourth quarter was due to begin, Moore Haven put together a drive that culminated with a six yard run over left tackle by Terrier Dwayne Bryant and as the stand held its breath, the Terriers missed the extra point try.

The last quarter seesawed back and forth but with a minute thirty remaining, Donnie Coursan ran the ball over from the two for six points of insurance.

In rushing, the Gators led with 52 tries for 197 yards while the Terriers could only gather 26 yards in 19 attempts. The hometown team passed three times, completing one for 12 yards while Moore Haven put the ball into the air 13 times, connecting on five with one interception and a total of 78 yards.

The Gators had 14 first downs to Moore Haven's four and were forced to punt three times while the Terriers booted the ball five. The Gators also lost one fumble while the Terriers fumbled three times, losing one.

Jason Shelton led the Gators in rushing with 11 tries for 65 yards. He was followed by Julio Rivas

WANNA DANCE? Nobody was dancing Friday night during the tough battle between the Glades Day School Gators and the Moore Haven Terriers. The game could have gone "either way" until just before it ended and the Gators scored an insurance touchdown.

who rushed 13 times for 57 yards and Bruce Weet, who got 44 yards on ten attempts.

Nacho Bueno got the only pass interception of the game and on defense, Mark Allen and Sweet tied with six tackles apiece. Manuel Phillips and Coursan got five tackles each and to round out the defense, Victor Perez pitched in with four tackles and five assists.

"We were real pleased with the showing of our team the last two games," said assistant coach Randy McCracken. "We've jelled into a pretty good team."

This Friday, the Gators go to Miami and face the "tough and quick" Northwestern squad.

"We're going to carry it to them," said McCracken. "A six-four season will look a lot better than a five-five."

HISIGHT
It's going down to the nitty-gritty. This is the last week of guessing for our prognosticators and as of right now, there's a battle going on between Curtis Thompson and the Bank of Pahokee for the lead.
Out of all the games predicted this year, both Curtis and Bubba Mock have mis-guessed only 24. That makes their batting average an astounding .721, a record many sports writers across this nation would envy.
And in the battle of the picking, there's also another going on between these two.
Bubba is an FSU grad, a die-in-the-wool and enthusiastic supporter of the Seminoles. He's had a lot to cheer about this year.
Curtis, on the other hand, is just as die-in-the-wool and enthusiastic over the Gators. It must be admitted, however, that Curtis has less to be enthusiastic about.
Anyway, Bubba has come up with a football schedule he suggests Florida use next year and has passed it over to a few UF fans. For copies, write to Bubba.
On the schedule such teams as the Gainesville Junior High, Palatka cheerleaders and Boy Scout Troop #49 occupy top billing. And to make the season special, a few of the rules have been changed. Gators, for instance, won't be allowed to disconnect the iron lung of players for the polo patients.
Other rule changes will give the Fighting Gators something to fight about. A touchdown for U of F will count 21 points and for a first down, the Gators have four tries to move the ball three yards.
U of F can also play with 27 members of the squad on the field at all times, use band members as substitutes and with three footballs.
Now Bubba, isn't that rubbing it in just a bit?
Therefore, Curtis has a chance to pull one out for the Gators. All he has to do is beat Bubba and his "secret" weapon, Jeanelle Meredith, this week and U of F will have something to crow about.
If you'll think about it, all of our pickers in this contest have guessed more than half the games correctly. That's quite an average, especially since we've noted that many "sports writers" have records lower.
In the picking this year, the pros and colleges have been especially tough. Who'd of thought the University of Miami, for instance, would beat Penn State?
Or, as Bubba would ask, who'd of thought at this point that Florida would not have won at least one game?
Pros are the same. Miami hasn't done especially well, but look at Tampa Bay!
In high schools, the picking has been easier. Just pick Glades Central and Pahokee to win, and it's almost a cinch this year.
This week, in the wrap-up, Glades Central plays Pahokee, which is probably the biggest Glades game of the year. Of our pickers, most chose Central but enough expressed confidence in Pahokee that there's a distinct doubt as to who's really gonna win.
We'll wait and see.
And this time next week, we'll announce in a loud voice the TOP PROGNOSTICATOR OF THE GLADES!

and Dr. Manuel Bunyi.
Ms. Patricia Ellison LPN, serves as the medical center's nurse.
Ms. Oakley said although the word of the opening is still spreading in the community, the physicians have seen dozens of clients.

Ms. Oakley who has been presenting information and educational programs on birth control and family planning to many civic, social and business organizations in the Glades, since her arrival September 1978.

Ms. Oakley said the medical clinic has been the main goal of the planned board of directors.

Among the other medical services offered at the clinic are complete pelvic exams, PAP tests, breast exams for cancer, blood pressure, anemia and diabetes exams, and venereal disease screening.

"Although the center charge a fee, we do not turn away anyone who is unable to pay the fee," she said.

Assisting Ms. Oakley at the center is Ms. Lolly Castro.

Air Force Beach top county issue

Air Force Beach acquisition plans by Palm Beach County, with support from North Palm Beach officials, remained a top issue during the past week.

After County Commissioners, spurred by Board Member Peggy Evatt, agreed to continue steps toward possible condemnation of the entire 1.5 miles of oceanfront property, North Palm Beach officials decided to make further efforts in negotiations with beach owners Bankers Life and Casualty Company.

Reports indicated a six-week

"waiting" period for talks between the firm, town officials and the County Commission representatives, including Commissioner Evatt.

Bankers Life to date has offered to donate a one mile stretch of the beach, but has indicated to Mrs. Evatt it is the final concession. The company wishes to construct luxurious villas on the remaining land.

Vice Chairman Denis Koehler and Commissioners Frank Foster and Norman Gregory supported Mrs. Evatt in continued steps toward eminent domain proceedings to acquire all of the beachfront area while Chairman Bill Bailey continued to oppose condemnation proceedings but agreed to further negotiations. Last week, by a vote, the commission directed staff to "begin a search" for a legal advisor and consultants to pursue the condemnation.

The Bankers Life offer was made through the MacArthur Foundation. The late John D. MacArthur acquired Air Force Beach and other vast holding more than 20 years ago.

Road plans

Palm Beach County engineers, under direction of the county commission, are working with other staff and committee personnel to compile a list of needed road projects, according to county officials.

Commissioners will review the priorities before placing a probable bond issue on the March primary ballot. Voters will be asked to decide on a long range, multi-million dollar bond sale to provide needed roads countywide.

Raider Club to meet

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central High School Raider Athletic Club, met last Wednesday evening to complete plans for a spaghetti supper to be held Nov. 16.

Tickets for the dinner are being sold for $2.50. They may be purchased from members of the athletic club.

The dinners will be served from 5 until 7 p.m., the night of the Pahokee—Glades Central High School football game.

Calvin Clay, president of the club, said the supper is to be served in the main cafeteria, and takeout dinners will be available.

This will be the last home game of the season, unless the Raiders are winners over Suncoast High School on Nov. 23. In that case, the regional playoff will be held on Nov. 30.

The club will announce the winner of a television set at the half time during the Pahokee game. The set was donated by Royal's Department Store and tickets are being sold for a $2 donation to the athletic club.

Graham Frost, athletics director, said additional expenses will be incurred, during the present year for athletic teams, both girls and boys, as both have been expanded.

Frost said what makes it rough is that only Pahokee and Belle Glade are in the western area, and they must travel to the east coast to participate in games, if they are to be represented.

Public comment sought on rice program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The U.S. Department of Agriculture is considering decisions on the 1980 rice program and is asking the public to submit comments on the program before Dec. 24, according to Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the department's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Areas of the program under consideration include:

- Whether there should be an acreage set-aside, and if so, how large it should be.

- Whether there should be land diversion payments, and if so, the size of these payments and how they should be computed.
- The established (target) price.
- The loan and purchase rate for the 1980 crop, including premiums and discounts for different grades and classes of rice, and commodity eligibility and storage requirements.
- Other provisions necessary to carry out the loan, purchase and payment program.

Legislation authorizes the secretary of agriculture to establish a set-aside of rice cropland for 1980 if he determines the total rice supply would likely be excessive. If a set-aside is in effect, cooperating producers must set-aside an acreage of cropland equal to a specified percentage of their rice acreage in order to be eligible for program loans, purchases and payments.

The amount of any set-aside specified by the secretary cannot exceed 30 percent of the farm allotment. In addition, a cooperator's acreage planted to crops designated by the secretary in 1980 cannot be more than his normal crop acreage minus the set-aside.

Without a set-aside or diversion program, the amount of any set-aside rice production for 1980 could range from 134 to 146 million hundredweight. When combined with 1980 carryover of about 33 million hundredweight, total supply could range from 167 to 179 million hundredweight. Utilization in 1980 could reach a high of 146 million hundredweight or a low of 130 million hundredweight, depending on exports. This would leave ending stocks at 21 million to 49 million hundredweight.

Whether or not a set-aside is in effect, legislation provides that the secretary may make land diversion payments if he determines they are necessary to help adjust the total national rice acreage to desirable goals.

Under current legislation, the 1980 target price will be the 1979 target price ($9.05 per hundredweight) adjusted for any change in the two-year moving average of variable machinery and overhead costs of producing rice. Preliminary data indicate the 1980 formula target price could range from $9.35 to $10.00 per hundredweight.

The 1980-crop loan and purchase rate will be the 1979-crop loan and purchase rate adjusted to a level which bears the same ratio as the 1980-crop target price bears to the 1979-crop target price. The estimated 1980 loan and purchase rate could range from $7.00 to $7.50 per hundredweight. However, if the secretary finds that the loan and purchase rate would discourage exports and result in a buildup of U.S. stocks, he may reduce the rate to as low as $6.31 per hundredweight.

Comments should be sent to the director, product adjustment division, ASCS, USDA, room 3630-South building, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D. C., 20013

The "bargain" of 1/4% more.

All of us look for bargains these days. It just makes sense. But we have to look carefully at those "bargains." Are they really a savings? Or do they cost us money?

For instance, let's look at the 1/4% more interest paid by savings and loan associations than by banks. On a passbook savings account of $1,000, that's about $2.50 more per year.

But saving at a separate place from where you bank, means extra trips. And gasoline costs about $1.00 a gallon. Just a couple of gallons a year for the added distance wipes out your savings "increase."

Nobody can do more for your money than the Florida National people. Because they can give you the convenience of saving where you bank — and more.

The Florida National people can develop a custom savings program for you, that makes your money work its hardest. For your needs, your goals, what you want your money to do — now and in the future.

These days it makes more sense than ever to get to know your bank. The people who do more.

SOME PLAIN TALK ON MAKING YOUR MONEY WORK HARDEST.

Government announces landowner penalties

Proposed penalties and procedures the U.S. Department of Agriculture will use to handle violations of the Agricultural Foreign Investment Disclosure Act have been announced by Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of the department's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

The Act requires foreign owners of U.S. agricultural land to report their holdings to ASCS and provides for penalties of up to 25 percent of the fair market value of the owner's interest in the land. Fitzgerald said. The proposed regulations spell out the procedures ASCS will use in determining if there was a violation of the law and in assessing penalties as well as provide an outline of the appeal procedure for individuals who wish to challenge ASCS findings, he said.

Under the proposals, individuals who file a late report may be fined one-tenth of one percent of the fair market value of the land for every week the report is late, not to exceed 25 percent of the land's value. Individuals who fail to report or who file an incomplete or misleading report may be fined the entire 25 percent.

Fitzgerald said the public is invited to comment on the proposals which was scheduled to appear in the October 26 Federal Register. Deadline for submitting written comments is December 26. Comments should be addressed to the Administrator, ASCS-USDA, Room 218-W, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Landlords being sued

By ALMA HENRY
BELLE GLADE—Rental landlords, William and Betty Thiebaud, Mary Flower and Eva P. Oliver all of Belle Glade have been served with notices of individuals seeking damages on a public nuisance charge.

Donald E. Mason, Managing Attorney for Florida Rural Legal Services, Inc., in Belle Glade filed the suits in the Circuit Court of the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit of Palm Beach County on the 6th of November.

The three petitions all filed separately, allege the rental units are in a deteriorating state and threatened the life and safety of the occupants, and the general public.

Tenants Olivia Dunbar, Mattie McCutchen, Almada Greele, Betty Brown, and Barbara Brown, all of 617 S.W. Ave. B Belle Glade, allege the property owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Thiebaud, has been in an unsafe, unsanitary, and hazardous condition due to the defendants' substantial noncompliance with the provisions of the state of Florida, and the City of Belle Glade Building Ordinances.

The defendants failed to disclose to the tenants, prior to the commencement of the rental agreement, that the defendants had no duty to maintain the rental premises in compliance with Florida Law, and

- The defendants' continuing failure to remedy the conditions has and does cause damage to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs suffered damage by payment of rent for a unit which they cannot fully utilize, they suffer physical pains, injuries, as well as embarrassment, and humiliation connected with their residences in an unsanitary unsightly home.

Attorney Mason said Stan Bittner, a building inspector, of Dade County inspected the Thiebaud property, and among his findings were:

- The interior floors were rotten, sagging, and showed signs of termites.
- The floor joists were deteriorated and rotted due to termite damage.
- The framing and the exterior stucco was rotten and deteriorated, as well as damaged by termites.
- The ceiling and roof structure is rotten and sagging, plasterboard cover is broken in many areas, and the concrete column located under the west side landing is dangerously leaning and defective.

The building inspector said these conditions threaten the stability of the building and endangers the life of the occupants and the public.

The petition also alleges:

- The communal toilets located in the building are frequently broken and in a filthy and unsanitary condition.
- The premises are infested with vermin, insects, rodents, insects, and the vermin, insects, and rodents live in the walls, and under the doors posing a substantial risk to the children who live in the apartments.

Mason said these conditions and others are of long standing and persist despite numerous complaints by the tenants and the public.

Alfred Z. Woodard, sued Eva P. Oliver and Mary Flower on similar charges.

Woodard cited the property of Oliver, located at 616 S.W. Ave. B, Place, and Flower properties at 424 S.W. Ave. B, Place, 416 S.E. Ave. B, Place, and 241 S.W. 5th Street, as a public nuisance, structurally deteriorated and a safety hazard.

Woodard said the buildings located in the South West section in Belle Glade are the worst in the city, and the landlords of rental units in the area, have the attitude of "I don't give a damn," he said.

Woodard said he feels if the living conditions in the Southwest section can be improved, possibly some of the crime in the area might be reduced.

Tenants of the Thiebaud rental units and Woodard asked the Court to:

- Issue a preliminary and permanent injunction prohibiting the landlords from maintaining the property.
- Issue a preliminary and permanent mandatory injunction requiring the defendants to take all necessary steps to repair and refurbish the property so that the public nuisance will no longer exist.
- Issue an injunction requiring the landlords to take all money paid as rent for the premises and place it in a separate account and use it for the purpose of repairing and refurbishing the property.
- Issue an injunction prohibiting the defendants from maintaining a rental business or collecting rents from tenants until the nuisance has been corrected.
- And award the tenants and Woodard compensatory and punitive damages.

Woodard said he hopes to see more tenants coming forth and seeking relief from the living conditions that many live in.

THERE'S AN ART TO UNTANGLING
... Recreation Dept. worker lends hand.

CITY PUBLIC WORKS EMPLOYEE ATTACHES GREENERY SWAGS TO POLES ALONG MAIN STREET
...Decorations are going up now, but lights won't go on until Thanksgiving.

If it's Thanksgiving...

This must be Christmas!

Even though the Thanksgiving turkey hasn't even been defrosted yet, it's already the time of year when the city streets begin to take on that atmospheric quality known as the holiday season.

According to Belle Glade Recreation Department director Johnny Rutledge, who coordinates the placement of the city's street decorations, workers expect to complete the project by next week, but the lights won't be turned on until Thanksgiving evening.

And, in a few weeks, city residents will know it's 1980 when these same decorations are repacked until next year... the decorations are scheduled to come down the day after New Year's.

BELLE GLADE'S WATER TOWER

AIRBORNE WORKER RIDES 'PEA-PICKER' TO HEIGHTS OF LIGHT POLES
... To dress up the city streets for the coming holidays.

No matter that the Thanksgiving turkey hasn't made it to the dinner table yet; it's still that time of year when city streets put on their holiday best. In Belle Glade street decorations are being put up this week although the lights won't be switched on until Thanksgiving Day.

'Tooth person' faces serious inflation ills

I realized inflation had gotten out of hand last weekend, when I found myself bargaining, on behalf of the Tooth Fairy, with my son for a slightly used, imperfectly brushed upper incisor.

I felt like I was buying a used car. In fact, buying a used car would've definitely been easier, and probably cheaper.

"If you put this under your pillow," I said in my Dr. Spock-approved voice, "the Tooth Fairy will leave you a new, shiny dime."

"A dime?" he said, wrinkling his nose in disgust. "A DIME? I should get more than a dime for this; it's one of my best teeth!"

"Tooth Person," corrected a friend, who fancies himself the advocate for all the downtrodden and hopeless. "You mean Tooth Person."

"Whatever," I said. "Maybe a quarter. A new quarter; the Tooth Fairy might be willing to go a quarter on that particular tooth."

"Mom," my budding capitalist said, "you can't DO anything with a quarter. I'll bet the Tooth Fairy doesn't even have quarters anymore."

"Tooth Person," said the Ralph Nader of the dental floss set, "You mean Tooth Person."

"Whatever," my son said. "Listen, this tooth's been through a lot; frisbees, roller skating, baseball and jawbreakers."

"Right," I said, nodding, "most of which I've paid for, like one new cap and six replacement caps, two split lips and one cavity. When I was a kid, the Tooth Fairy paid a dime for the best tooth you could come up with, regardless of condition or history."

"When you were a kid the Tooth Fairy was just an apprentice. The Tooth Fairy is now an experienced worker with time-in-grade."

...in the fast lane

By

"Tooth Person," said the weary friend. "Whatever," I said. "Keep this up, and you'll have a matched set under your pillow, Buster. A dollar. I think I can get you a dollar for the tooth, but not a penny more. Bank note; no silver certificates."

We both turned toward the Enamel Consumer's Advocate.

"You think paying a dollar for this tooth would instigate an uprising among Special Occasions Persons, thereby proving to be detrimental to the Persons, espoused by Easter Persons and Santa cause espoused by Easter Persons to its proper perspective the theory that equal-pay-for-equal-work should not be confined to union shops and employment for which an adequate job description is available?" I asked.

"Whatever," he sighed.

Book Donations Needed

Donations of books and magazines are needed by Glades Central Community High School to support the school's recently established "Sustained Silent Reading Program." Glades Central officials have announced.

According to a school spokesman, the program is designed to increase students' reading skills and vocabulary by establishing a 30-minute silent reading time each week.

School administrators, clerical workers, maintenance crews and faculty members join students for a 30-minute reading period each week. The program is being coordinated by a committee composed of chairman Barbara Myers, which members Pamela Campbell, Myrtle Clayton, Edith Cowan, Linda Lucier, and Francie Roundtree.

Reading material donated to the school for use in the program may be left in the library on either school campus from 8:30 a.m. until 3:15 p.m., Monday through Friday. Donations may be picked up by calling Mrs. Cowan at 996-5216 or Mrs. Clayton at 996-7246.

Pahokee Gardeners To meet

A special demonstration of dried flower arrangements has been scheduled for the next meeting of the Pahokee Garden Club, according to a club spokesman.

Club members are to meet Nov. 20 in the Everglades Federal Community room at 10 a.m.

Guest speaker for the meeting is to be Virginia Crooks of Clewiston, who plans to present the demonstration.

Puppet Show Planned

Area youngsters are invited to attend one of two showings of a special musical presentation of the puppet show, "Runaways," slated to be performed Saturday at the Belle Glade Municipal Library, according to librarian Phyllis Lilley.

The musical play, which concerns the adventures of four small animals, will be performed at 11 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. at the library, located next to the Chamber of Commerce in the city's McDonald Park complex. Ms. Lilley said.

Performances are free, and open to the public.

Community Thanksgiving Service

A Community Thanksgiving Service will be held at the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade on November 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Mark T. O'Farrell, pastor of the Belle Glade Alliance Church will bring the message. The Rev. Joe Ed McGahey, the host pastor will lead the worship service.

The Presidential Proclamation of a Day of Thanks will be read by the Rev. Clifford Davis, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Holiness Church.

The Rev. Henry Fuse, associate pastor of the Church of God in Prophecy will lead the congregation in the responsive reading of Psalm 105.

The offering which will go to the Katherine Price Foundation will be blessed by the Rev. David T. Evans, pastor of the Everglades Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Bob Atkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church will lead the assembly in the giving of Thanksgiving.

The Benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. S.L. Drawdy, pastor of The Church of the Nazarene.

Combined choirs of the participating churches will present an anthem under the direction of Carol Schmidt.

The organist for the service will be Karen Corbin.

Zawadski On 'Safari'

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman Victor J. Zawadski III, son of Victor J. and Donna N. Zawadski of 1033 Wedgeworth Road, Belle Glade, Fla., is participating in exercise "Ocean Safari 79."

He is a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Patterson, homeported in Mayport, Fla., and currently deployed with NATO's Standing Naval Force, Atlantic.

The two-week exercise is being conducted in the North Atlantic Ocean and Norwegian Sea. Ships and aircraft in the multi-national exercise come from Belgium, Canada, Germany, Norway, Portugal, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States.

"Ocean Safari 79" is designed to demonstrate and improve NATO's capability to provide maritime support to Europe in time of crisis or war.

The Patterson is 438 feet long and carries a crew of 255 officers and enlisted men. Equipped with guns, missiles and rockets, she can operate independently or as a part of a naval task force. She is also outfitted with a landing platform and normally carries a light helicopter for long range detection and attack of submarines.

A 1977 graduate of Glades Central High School, Zawadski joined the Navy in October 1977.

Private Completes School

Pvt. Mitchell A. Howard, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Crumedy, 540 S.W. 10th St., Belle Glade, Fla., recently completed advanced individual training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, students received training which qualified them as light-weapon infantrymen and as indirect fire crewmen in a rifle or mortar squad.

Instruction included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

Pahokee Man in OSUT

A Pahokee man was among military personnel who recently completed training as an armor reconnaissance specialist at the Army's school located at Fort Knox, Ky.

Private Bobby G. Kennedy Jr. of Pahokee completed a 13-week training period which included combat training and individual training at the Fort Knox facility. The special course included weapons training as well as maintenance of armor vehicles, communications and artillery adjustments, according to Army officials.

Airman Visits Athens

Navy Aviation Structural Mechanic Airman Billy J. Parker of

Belle Glade recently visited Athens, Greece, with other Navy personnel aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence. Naval officials have announced.

Parker, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Parker of Belle Glade, is currently serving aboard the aircraft carrier in the Mediterranean Sea. He is a member of Tactical Electronic Warfare Squadron 130, which is based at the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station at Oak Harbor, Wash.

Parker is a 1977 graduate of Glades Central High School. He joined the Navy in November of 1977. Navy records show.

Local man Receives Promotion

Wendell Fluker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Celestine, Prewitt Village, Belle Glade, recently was promoted to Army specialist four while serving as a gunner with the 81st Armor in Erlangen, Germany.

He entered the Army in June, 1978.

Fluker is a 1978 graduate of Glades Central High School.

Coconut chicken is great for buffets

I'm planning a buffet dinner, and would like a main dish that's both inexpensive and fancy, and a little unusual. And since I work, I can't spend too much time making it. I know that's asking an awful lot.

T.R.
Belle Glade

Not really . . . actually, it's asking just about the same thing every other working person who likes to entertain asks. Try this on your guests; it seems to meet the criteria. Plan to serve it over rice or, even quicker, crispy fried noodles from a can:

COCONUT CHICKEN

- 4 fresh coconuts
- 2 whole chickens
- 3 Tblsps. butter
- 1 med. onion, finely chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 med. eggplants, peeled and diced
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, drained
- 2 tpsps. parmesan cheese
- 1 1/2 Tblsps. flour
- Salt
- Pepper

Saw the top off each coconut and scoop out as much of the flesh as you can; grate flesh in blender. Soak grated coconut in twice as much water for two hours; squeeze out coconut milk and save both flesh and milk.

Bone chickens (you can do this the day before, or have your butcher do it) and cut meat in bite-size chunks. In skillet, heat butter and saute onion and garlic until light golden. Add chicken meat, stir and cook five minutes; add eggplant and tomatoes (which have been diced). Cover and cook 20 minutes. Stir in flour, cheese and coconut milk; season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir in coconut milk.

Fill each coconut shell with chicken mixture. Replace top and seal with a paste made of flour and water. Stand in roasting pan, in about one-inch of water, and bake in 400-degree F. oven for one hour. Remove tops, place coconuts on buffet table, and serve chicken from shells.

I'm confused about Chianti wine. I thought Chianti was a brand name, but now I've noticed more than one label calling itself Chianti. What is it?

J.K.
Belle Glade

Chianti is perhaps the most famous wine in the world, and is produced in vineyards south of Florence in Italy. Chianti is a type of red wine, marketed under many different labels. The best is supposedly called Chianti Classico, from a group of towns whose wines are marketed with a seal showing a cock in a black ring. Others come from outside this district, and some of these use a seal showing a white cherub. The range of Chianti wines is wide and brands are important. Young Chiantis, in straw baskets known as "fiascos," are fresh and delightful, older ones that are usually marketed in regular bottles have a certain elegance.

Distinguished brand names in the Chianti line are Brullo or Meleto of Ricassoli, Machiavelli, and Antinori.

Is there some way of serving noodles, which I find relatively inexpensive, other than macaroni and cheese, or with a meat or fish sauce over it?

L.P.
Pahokee

The Italians have a thousand-and-one ways to serve noodles . . . at least! The following recipe is a great Italian pasta dish, takes little time, and takes the place of potatoes in your menus:

WOODCUTTER'S NOODLES

- 1 lb. pasta (linguini, spaghetti, macaroni, etc.)
- 1/2 c. butter or margarine
- 6 slices lean bacon, diced
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 4 oz. parmesan cheese
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 2-3 Tblsps. milk

Boil pasta as directed on package, using salted water, boiling until done but still firm. Melt the butter in a small skillet and add bacon; cook until lightly golden. Drain pasta and dump into warm bowl or chafing dish. Pour in eggs, toss lightly, and mix in butter and bacon. Toss again, add half the cheese, and mix thoroughly. Add pepper and remaining cheese; add milk only if pasta seems too dry. Serve with additional parmesan cheese to sprinkle over.

I have a lot of recipes in my cookbooks that call for ladyfingers. A lot of times I'm looking for a quick dessert I can fix for company with ingredients I already have; is there anything I can substitute for the ladyfingers?

H.G.
Belle Glade

In place of ladyfingers, in most recipes, you can substitute slices of day-old pound cake, sponge cake or angel food cake, or you can use pancakes! The following recipe gives you an idea how to use pancakes in a dessert recipe:

APRICOT SOUFFLE

- 4 pancakes
- 1 lg. can apricot halves, thoroughly drained

- 3 Tblsps. sugar
- 2 oz. butter
- 2 oz. ground almonds or pecans
- 5 egg whites
- 2 Tblsps. apricot jam

Prepare four thin pancakes; cut them into noodle-like strips.

In an 8-inch glass casserole dish, which has been buttered on all sides and dusted with ground almonds or pecans, layer with the pancake strips. Place apricot halves on top of pancake strips.

Beat egg whites until stiff; sweeten with sugar, then mix carefully with jam. Heap over apricots. Bake in 450-degrees F. pre-heated oven until golden brown, about 10 minutes. Serves 4-6.

Taking it from the top

By REV. DAVID T. EVANS
Everglades Presbyterian Church

Next week we will be celebrating Thanksgiving. This is a time for our nation to give thanks to God for our blessings, and Belle Glade residents are invited to join in a community Thanksgiving Service on the eve of Thanksgiving Day at the Community United Methodist Church.

This service is an opportunity to express thanks for good crops and a good God.

The original Thanksgiving Day was for this same reason, back in the days of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, more than 350 years ago.

No matter what happens to our harvest, we need to take time to give thanks to God. The Psalmist was right when he said, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." (Ps. 103:2)

Not only at harvest time are we to give thanks. Our country is seemingly the most blessed of all nations as far as material goods; therefore, let us respond to the call of our President and to the blessings of God and give thanks.

Take time right now to count your blessings. Is it your health you need to be thankful for, or your job? Is it the ability to walk without pain? Is it life because of the miracles of medical science?

Certainly there are many other reasons to be thankful.

Let us unite, singing praise unto God, lifting up our prayers to Almighty God and joining our hearts with our neighbors in a true service of thanksgiving.

We are grateful to our God, the creator, Father of our Lord Jesus who gave us forgiveness and therefore life free from the bondage of sin. We are also thankful for the Holy Spirit who reminds us of our blessings and guides us through the myriad of obstacles in our everyday lives.

Engagements

Wood-Ramm

Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Wood Jr. of Belle Glade announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosanne, to Dr. Hartmut Ramm of Tallahassee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Ramm of Manchester, Tenn.

Ms. Wood is a graduate of Belle Glade High School and Florida State University where she earned her bachelor's degree in psychology, and her master's degree in education.

She is employed by the school for Applied Learning in Tallahassee. Dr. Ramm received his bachelor's degree in physics from the University of Tennessee, his master's degree in physics from Duke University, and his doctoral degree in philosophy from Florida State University.

The couple is to be married December 23 in Jacksonville.

Area church news

What does the Bible really mean to you? Is it an old leather volume gathering dust on the shelf, or a beloved, faithful companion?

The answer depends partly on your childhood. If your family read the Bible daily, then its Books have long since become part of your way of life.

But to many of us, the Bible remains a mystery and even the "modern" versions seem complicated. We may want, almost desperately, to understand, but it isn't that easy.

Help is as near as your closest church. For centuries the Church has made a business of studying and interpreting the Bible. Despite the passing of time, they proclaim its message with remarkable clarity. Try it and see.

Taking it from the top

By REV. DAVID T. EVANS
Everglades Presbyterian Church
Next week we will be celebrating Thanksgiving.

This is a time for our nation to give thanks to God for our blessings, and Belle Glade residents are invited to join in a community Thanksgiving Service on the eve of Thanksgiving Day at the Community United Methodist Church.

This service is an opportunity to express thanks for good crops and a good God.

The original Thanksgiving Day was for this same reason, back in the days of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, more than 350 years ago.

No matter what happens to our harvest, we need to take time to give thanks to God. The Psalmist was right when he said, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." (Ps. 103:2)

Not only at harvest time are we to give thanks. Our country is seemingly the most blessed of all nations as far as material goods; therefore, let us respond to the call of our President and to the blessings of God and give thanks.

Take time right now to count your blessings. Is it your health you need to be thankful for, or your job? Is it the ability to walk without pain? Is it life because of the miracles of medical science?

Certainly there are many other reasons to be thankful.

Let us unite, singing praise unto God, lifting up our prayers to Almighty God and joining our hearts with our neighbors in a true service of thanksgiving.

We are grateful to our God, the creator, Father of our Lord Jesus who gave us forgiveness and therefore life free from the bondage of sin. We are also thankful to the Holy Spirit who reminds us of our blessings and guides us through the myriad of obstacles in our everyday lives.

Engagements

Wood-Ramm

Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Wood Jr. of Belle Glade announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosanne, to Dr. Hartmut Ramm of Tallahassee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Ramm of Manchester, Tenn.

Mrs. Wood is a graduate of Belle Glade High School and Florida State University where she earned her bachelor's degree in psychology, and her master's degree in education.

She is employed by the school for Applied Learning in Tallahassee.

Dr. Ramm received his bachelor's degree in physics from the University of Tennessee, his master's degree in physics from Duke University, and his doctoral degree in philosophy from Florida State University.

The couple is to be married December 23 in Jacksonville.

Getting married?

The Herald-Observer publishes wedding and engagement announcements as a public service and there is no charge for this service.

Engagement announcements must be in our office by 5 p.m. Monday for publication the following Thursday. Engagement announcements must be published at least one calendar month before the wedding date.

Wedding announcements should appear the first Thursday following the day of the ceremony and also must be in our office by 5 p.m. Monday. The Herald-Observer will publish wedding announcements without pictures if more than three weeks have elapsed since the ceremony.

Photos to accompany announcements should be black and white and not copies of color photographs. Polaroid prints and snapshots usually do not reproduce in newspapers with the same degree of quality as a formal portrait. Portraits are generally used for engagement announcements, and full-length photographs may be used of brides alone, or brides and bridegrooms together.

Although we will take all precautions in safeguarding the pictures, the Herald-Observer cannot guarantee the return of photographs.

Forms for submitting announcements are available at our office on Main Street in Belle Glade, and our office on Annona Street in Pahokee. Forms will be mailed to out-of-town residents and requests for forms may be sent to: Herald-Observer, P.O. Box 760, Belle Glade, FL 33430. Your telephone number must be provided on the form, and the announcement must be signed.

Contents of the published announcement is left to the discretion of the editor, with respect to available space, style and relativity.

purchase agreement is tax deductible. What's more, business can write off depreciation on their own phone systems for a period of time.

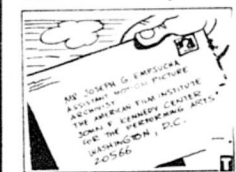

For another, efficient information flow can help cut costs for a growing business. Executone, a leader in telecommunications systems, has just introduced the first computerized phone system exclusively for smaller organizations. Every phone in the "Equity" system has its own built-in microcomputer with electronic memory, allowing the system to deliver features and benefits once available only to users of much larger telephone systems. The system is easy to install, service and expand, major considerations for a growing business.

SAFETY SENSE

Is your home the picture of safety? It may not be if you have old films in your attic. The 35mm film used in movie theaters till the early 1950s deteriorates with age and in time can become a fine brown powder that can burst into flame at temperatures as low as 106° F.—a temperature found in many attics.

If you have such nitrate films, free material on preserving them—and possibly preserving your home from fire—is available by writing to Joseph G. Empsua, Assistant Motion Picture Archivist, The American Film Institute, John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, D.C. 20566.

FACTS & FIGURES

It costs our government 51 cents to collect every $100 in taxes.

A proposed crude-oil excise tax, the so-called "windfall profits tax," is already in place, experts say. Income tax, severance tax, royalties and other federal and state levies, reports the Gulf Oil Corp., already will put into government treasuries about 60 percent of any additional revenues that result from decontrol.

NEEDLEWORK NEWS & NOTES

Braid New Work

Even if you're a long-standing member of the braiding bunch, it may surprise you to know that you can make beautiful things by braiding more than three strands.

The new Reader's Digest Complete Guide to Needlework, a great gift, available at bookstores, for all crafty people with its 504 pages of easy-to-follow, step-by-step instructions, many illustrations and beautiful pictures of beautiful things you can make, shows you how to use four, five, six or even seven braiding strands.

Multiple braids are great for making handbag handles, luggage straps, belts and headbands—even oblong rugs.

To start a multiple braid, secure the ends of the fabric strips with a large safety pin, or sew across them so they lie flat.

It helps to use strands of different colors so you can follow their individual paths to reduce confusion.

Can We Afford To Abandon Nuclear Power?

Bill Lee is president of Duke Power Company in Charlotte, North Carolina. He is also chairman of the board of directors of the newly-created Institute for Nuclear Power Operations (INPO) and a member of the Three Mile Island Oversight Committee.

Shutting down the nuclear plants that we have today would cause great economic trauma.

• First of all, the 72 nuclear plants that are operating are saving the consumer about $4 billion every year—cash left in their pockets—because of the contribution being made by those plants. The consumers would have a problem if we shut down those plants.

• Second of all, if we shut down that much of the nation's generating capacity, we may have great difficulty keeping the lights on and certainly there would be rotating blackouts in some parts of the nation. That would adversely impact your ability to have a job because it takes electricity to turn the wheels of industry.

• And third, other sources of energy, such as solar, aren't here yet in massive quantities needed to fuel our economy. I hope it will come one day but it's not here yet and we can't burn our bridges until we learn a new way across the river.

We need massive efforts not only on solar energy, but on other alternative energy forms such as synthetic fuels, such as the breeder reactor, such as geothermal energy. We don't have the luxury of not pursuing any form of energy simply because we do not like it. We must pursue any of these forms that may have some practical application in the future.

Someday we may have a substantial contribution from solar energy. It would be a cruel hoax, however, on the public to stop developing energy sources we now know how to use in the hope that we could develop solar energy in time to provide substantial supply.

I think that society needs to grapple with whether or not we should build nuclear plants because there is some risk. In that grappling, I think that society will find that there is greater risk in other forms of energy than in nuclear and even greater risk in doing nothing, in having no energy.

There is some risk in everything that mankind does. There's a great risk in mining and transporting and burning coal. There's risk in oil. We have to import oil and there's risk in the pollutants that come from oil firing. There is a greater risk if we don't have enough energy. We must have more energy. The lowest risk there is, in my opinion, is nuclear energy.

I think nuclear plants offer society the minimum risk, certainly to bridge us into the next century when, hopefully, massive amounts of energy will be available from more exotic forms.

CURRENT EVENTS QUIZ

Do you know the truth about what's going on in the world today? This quiz can help you tell.

1. Scientists can create human genetic material in the laboratory. True _____ False _____

2. The country that produces the most petroleum is Saudi Arabia. True _____ False _____

3. American oil companies do not support the development of alternate energy sources. True _____ False _____

4. NASA has developed a new kind of rocket ship that can make several trips to space and back. True _____ False _____

5. Only a small minority of American children live in homes where both parents or the only parent works during the day. True _____ False _____

ANSWERS

1. True. Recombinant DNA research, popularly known as "gene splicing," allows scientists to manufacture genes and sometimes the products of those genes from almost any living creature, including humans. 2. False. Although Saudi Arabia produces over three billion barrels of crude petroleum a year, the U.S.S.R. surpasses them with nearly four billion. 3. False. According to Jerry McAfee, Chairman of the Board of the Gulf Oil Corporation, oil companies strongly support the development of all domestic energy sources. He also points out that the so-called "windfall profits" tax is unnecessary and counterproductive. Oil companies could and would use the money to find more energy for America. 4. True. The Space Shuttle is expected to be able to make a number of trips to space and back. 5. False. According to the National Educational Assn., ever since 1975, the majority of American children have lived in homes where both parents or the only parent works during the day.

Tiempo is the original all-season radial. And it's the only one we know of that's been proved: (a) for over eighteen months, (b) in all kinds of weather (including the winter of 1977-78!), and (c) from one end of this country to the other. So don't be fooled—there is no other tire "just like" Tiempo. And there's no need for you to settle for anything less. Spring, summer, winter or fall, Tiempo is one tire you can drive with confidence. Starting now!
